SHATTUCK STYLE . . . When this boy got under motion last fall, with those knees pounding high, and far more frame behind them than unprepared tacklers suspected, something usually gave. And Jack came up with a third all-state team place. For this writer, you could place him right alongside Mohney on that first team and they would have fitted into any coach's backfield.

MAIL DELIVERER . . . The fellow on his back is Don Mohney carrying the mail for a score against Oil City, but that gentleman on his knees, with a 63 on his jersey, is Walt Kibbey. He is the boy who has delivered player and ball with a very large hole right on the goal line. It was this kind of work that earned Walt all-state honorable mention.

THE SCOOTER . . . All-state honorable mention also was earned by Carl Greco, who ate up big chunks of yardage for scores and

ALL-STATE QUALITY . . . One more step and the Dragons will have another score provided by a member of the Pennsylvania all-state first team. This is Don Mohney helping to pile up that big one against Bradford.

BIG MIKE . . . . . We couldn't find an action shot that did this big Warren end justice. So we used a straight one. Mike was a co-captain with Jack Shattuck on the undefeated Warren football team, and was named on the second all-state team. He was a hardworking hunk of man and a mighty fine leader.

Council Postpones Real Estate Tax

The Warren borough council met in special session last Thursday to act on an ordinance which would have provided a real estate tax for 1956, but opposition offered by E. H. Beshlin, Warren attorney, caused it to pass the proposal on only one reading.

Even then it was opposed by four of the thirteen councilmen present, and at least two who voted for the measure said they might not support it on later votes.

Favoring the tax were Dave Levine, Maurice Emery, Leon Laskaris, Beyer Africa, Warren Miller, John Newmaker, Harry Logan, Jr., James Frantz, and Ray Johnson.

Opposed were Robert Kopf, Blain Mead, John Carbon, and William Pasquerette.

Mr. Beshlin argued that the tax was unfair and would lie heavy on young couples buying property. He also said it was being passed illegally. Solicitor Knox Harper did not agree. Mr. Beshlin said he had failed to express his objections to the unfair per capita tax, but piling the property tax on top of it was too much.

More action on the tax is expected at the regular meeting next Monday, but there now may be some question about the timeliness of the action in respect to the legal advertising, and at the best the tax will not be in effect until the middle of January.

Council also appointed Henry Fisher to succeed Scott Calderwood on the planning commission. Mr. Calderwood's five-year term has expired.

Marion Loucks was named temporary police justice until the governor appoints a successor to the justice office left vacant by the death of Tracy M. Greenlund.

Council also named special parking hours for the downtown meters on the evenings of December 5, 12, 17, 20, 21, and 22.

THE HOMEMAKER OF TOMORROW is being sought among Warren high school girls through a written examination which was presented to the students on Tuesday by Mrs. Robert Whitehill. The girls will compete against thousands throughout the United States with the forty-eight state winners receiving $1,500 scholarships and a tour of Washington, Williamsburg, Va., and Philadelphia next April. Through interviews the All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow will be selected and awarded a $5,000 scholarship from General Mills.

The Warren girls in alphabetical order are: Carlene Anderson, Carol Anderson, Kay Carlson, Patti Dun-

man, Harold L. Banghart, national council representative; William M. Hill, retiring president; Elmer H. Morgan, executive; J. H. Willett, of Philadelphia, Deputy regional executive. STANDING: Byron W. Knapp; Dr. William L. Ball; E. W. Koebley; Ivan S. Brumagim, vice president;

Maurice R. Emery; Clifford R. Betts, president; Myron E. Jewell, asst. treasurer; Neil D. Paterson, treasurer; William H. Muir; Henry O. Walker; James Wright. Among the absent were James A. Blomquist, vice president and commissioner; and Allen M. Gibson, vice president.

Boyhood and Alcoholism

By John Crosby

The "Omnibus" series on the boyhoods of the celebrated was a fascinating idea and some of them have been pretty wonderful. But lately -- at least on the last one -- they seem to be getting away from the original idea.

Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, the redoubtable retired pastor of Riverside Church, was the subject. He was born in 1878 and right at the outset it was brought out that Edison invented the incandescent lamp the year after he was born and that the United States was inhabited by 50,000,000 people, one third the present population. Dr. Fosdick told of his boyhood breakfast -- hot cereal, eggs and piles of pancakes -- his democratic father who insisted that all members of the family thrash out family problems, including financial ones, and the boyhood gangs he belonged to which, unlike the present mobs, were constructive gangs who built their own clubhouses and organized their own sports. (About the most mischievous thing they did was to steal all the clappers on the church bells on Halloween.)

So far so good. But then Dr. Fosdick got into his reasons for taking up the ministry, his social philosophy and even his present social work which, in spite of his retirement, is manifold. These are all worthwhile subjects all right except that they are not Dr. Fosdick's boyhood. The great charm of boyhood is that every man has had one. I don't know anyone who wouldn't like to compare his boyhood to someone else's, especially that of the famous. Did he have a better or tougher time of it? What was life like fifty or so years ago? When did he get up? When did he go to bed? How were the schools, the houses, the games, the clothes? And how much spending money did he get and what did he spend it on? And what did he do before TV and movies with his spare time?

That is boyhood and that to me was the value of the series. It offered a sense of continuity with the past. All boys, I suppose, are essentially the same but all boyhoods are not. What have we gained and what have we lost over the years? That breakfast, for instance. I don't know any small boys who eat like that any more -- Dr. Fosdick said he once got down fourteen pancakes after his cereal and eggs -- and it might have been fun to hear about dinner and lunch. In other words, stick to the boyhood. Young manhood and maturity are another series entirely.

The March of Medicine's study of alcoholism on NBC-TV Sunday night was, I suppose, the frankest documentary on the subject to come out on television. There were actual shots of blind drunks on Skid Row, a drunk with the DT's thrashing about a bed, a haggard lady listening to the tale of her antics with disbelieving eyes and -- well, quite a lot of other scenes that should have been fairly sensational stuff.

Somehow they weren't though. It all sounded like material we had heard before -- not once but many, many times -- in newspapers and magazines and books. Even the commercial movies like "The Lost Weekend" went into a lot of this quite a few years ago. And Ralph Edwards' "This Is Your Life," which, heavens knows, is hardly an educational program, explored alcoholism vividly in the case of Lillian Roth years ago. That became a successful book and will be a movie.

Of course, the problem remains acute and I suppose any documentary like March of Medicine that calls attention to the problem, the cures, and some of the reasons for alcoholism is contributing to public understanding and, just conceivably to an eventual solution. Just the same I can't help wondering why the American Medical Association, which is one of the chief guiding Ernest Thomas, of Yankee Bush, backed this General Concrete truck, loaded with sand, into the pit Thursday afternoon when the snow obscured the stoppers. Mr. Thomas was shaken by the impact but was not injured.

THE BIG ONES

Pete Juliano again led the maplenockers with 245 and 650 in the City league. In the same circuit, Nummy Wooster had 244 and 633, and Glenn Grosch spilled 256 and 623. The Building Block Works hit 1030 for a new record.

Larry Owen collected 248 and 634 in the Ex-Servicemen's league. Jack Kifer hit 266 for a new Commercial league record and totaled 625. Art Check had 611.

Paul Coppola led the Industrial with 599, and the Junior Industrial with 591. Harold Kiser topped the Shop league with 579, Joe Musante, the National K of C with 576, John Salamon the American K of C with 558, Snuffy Stephens the Merchants with 546, John Niemic the Sylvanians with 536, Lee Munch the Metzger Wright circuit with 531, and Dick Tanler paced the Junior league with 417.

FINDS THE RANGE

Vi Sterling had the alley measurements this week. She rolled the big ball in lady competition, getting 559 in the City league and 555 in the Major, where she also had a 201 game.

Nina Mack hit 548 and 208 in the City, Rita Miley had 523, and Madge Kehm, 514. Jeannette Harvey rolled 526 in the Major, where Louise Moorhead bowled 517 and Rita Miley posted 516. Jeannette picked up the 2, 7, 6, 10 split to help her total.

New records in the City league included a 2375 by Printz Co., and 842 by Angie's Beauty Salon.

Other leaders were Stella Wilson, 441 in Peg's, Dot Stevenson, 434 in the Minor, and Elizabeth Zdanko, 424 in Class C.

Gene Pring with 578 and Mary Holcomb with 486 led the Friday mixed league. John Carbon's 565 and Caryl Peterson's 416 topped the Tuesday loop.

DATA-VISION, THE NEW TV system, was publicly demonstrated recently for the first time when photographs, printed material and signatures were transmitted over ten miles of ordinary telephone lines. Data-vision operates without costly video pairs, microwaves or coaxial cables. The new system will be used to verify signatures between the Philadelphia National Bank, 421 Chestnut st., and its branch at 1416 Chestnut st. It has many potential applications in business and industry. The first success was accredited to a joint demonstration staged by The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, the Dage Television Div., Thompson Products, Inc., Michigan City, Ind.

In Brief

ONE DEATH was recorded in Warren County from injuries sustained during Safe Driving Day, December 1. Walter Heeter, 76, of Saybrook, died at the Warren General Hospital on Tuesday, December 6, after being struck by a truck Thursday evening one mile west of Sheffield. Heeter was walking down the center of the highway when the truck, operated by John Eisenhower, of Sunbury, was passing a car. The car veered to the right to avoid the pedestrian and Heeter stepped directly into the path of the oncoming truck.

AN ADDITIONAL $57,699 in pledges has been reported in the early stages of the "fair share" phase of the St. Joseph building fund campaign to bring the complete total to $211,139 as of Tuesday of this week. Fr. Alfred M. Bauer reported that nearly 1/3 of the parishioners are yet to be contacted and concluded with this challenge: "If you conclude this campaign with the same spirit of cooperation and enthusiasm you have shown to date, we will have our church".

A TOTAL OF $1960 has been reported by Treasurer E. C. Rasmussen in the Rotary Club's Probation Association financial drive. The Warren County Probation Assn. received praise from experienced judges who attended the Pennsylvania Mason Juvenile Court Institute according to Judge Alexander C. Flick, Jr., chairman of the Youth Committee. The total proceeds of the campaign will be invested as a permanent endowment fund and the income used to improve the probation system for juveniles in Warren County. Contributions may be sent to the Warren County Probation Assn. at the Warren County Courthouse, to the Rotary Club, or to E. C. Rasmussen at the Warren National Bank. The goal has been set at $5,000.

STILL MISSING. Joseph S. Paris, 29, of Erie, is still reported as missing even though volunteer searchers have scoured Warren County for evidences of the man or his 1955 Ford station wagon. Mrs. Paris advised police that her husband was headed for a hunting camp at Hearts Content when he left home last Thursday, December 1. He has been on vacation from his position at the Armour and Co. meat plant and was due to return to work on Monday. Members of his church have scoured the roadways looking for the car which bears 30-HD license plate, and Mrs. Paris' brothers rented a private plane for aerial surveillance. Any knowledge of the man or location of his vehicle should be reported immediately to the Pennsylvania State Police.

THE REGIONAL Voice of Democracy Contest was held in Warren Saturday when twenty recorded "I speak for Democracy" addresses were judged in the studios of Radio Station WNAE. Judges Ernest Miller, Marion Pettegrew and Paul E. Harrington, of Warren, and Arthur Burgess of Corry, selected the presentation of Marjori Foliant, 17, of Crafton high school as the first place winner. Sue Burns, 16, of Sharpsville high school placed second. The two will enter the state competition with six other regional winners. Sandra Johnson was the Warren County entry.

EXTRA MAILING HOURS will be extended to patrons of the Warren post office according to an announcement this week by Postmaster Brace S. Knabenshue. During the week of December 12-19 the mailing windows will be open from 7:30 a. m. through 6:30 p. m. On Sunday the 18th the windows will be open between 12 noon and 5 p. m.

SURPLUS FOOD will be distributed at the usual points in Warren County on December 14. The eligibles may also register for the next distribution.

THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS are available at the Warren County office of the U. S. Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee for the farmers who have applied for cooperative assistance on definite projects. If the projects have been accomplished the funds can be received by calling at the office not later than December 31, 1955.

N. E. Dodd, chairman of the county committee, has advised that the county allocation for 1955 is $53,000. To date, all except $4,487.73 has been applied for to complete definite projects. Any portions of the $48,512.27 which have been assigned to definite projects that are not completed by December 31 must be returned to the national office and can not be settled in 1956.

DIVORCES WERE GRANTED by Judge Alexander C. Flick, Jr. in the following cases: Maxine Burnside vs. Olin Burnside; Milton S. Hawley vs. Mary C. Hawley; Mildred A. Swanson vs. Fred M. Swanson; Elaine D. Anderson vs. Delbert C. Anderson; Merle D. Fileger vs. Cecelia E. Fileger; James Frontera vs. Leonora Gallati Frontera.

ANOTHER POLITICAL CHANGE in Warren County will take place soon. Robert E. Clark, of Youngsville, has resigned his position as supervisor of District Office 5, Pennsylvania Department of Revenue. He has maintained an office in the Warren National Bank building since he assumed the responsibilities relinquished by T. H. Milenius. Mr. Clark has accepted employment with a Youngsville concern.

YOUNGSVILLE CITIZENS will have the opportunity of being tested for civil service positions of substitute clerk and substitute carrier with applications being received until January 10, 1956. The basic rate of pay for substitutes in first and second class post offices is now $1.82 per hour. Further information and application forms may be received from Postmaster Warren H. Jones or by writing directly to the Director, Third U.S. Civil Service Region, 107 U.S. Customhouse, Second and Chestnut Streets, Philadelphia 6, Pa.

SANTA CLAUS, in the person of Ray Stein, distributed grab bag gifts at the Warren retailers meeting held in the Cedar Room of the Blue and White Restaurant on Tuesday evening. Chairman William Cannon presided at the business session. Joe E. Brown, chairman of the Christmas promotion, presented a gift to Jack Barr for successfully planning and executing the giant balloon parade.

CONEWANGO TOWNSHIP school board held its reorganizational meeting on Monday evening. Richard Smith, of North Warren, and Robert Porter, of the Warren-Jamestown rd., presented their credentials and were seated as new members, replacing Kenneth Barrett and Robert Crossett. Robert Smith, of Starbrick, was re-elected president and Samuel Bonavita was chosen as solicitor.

COUNTY LIBRARY SERVICE was discussed at a meeting in the county court house last night, sponsored by the Warren County Association of Elementary School Principals. Over fifty attended and listened to a talk by M. B. Mershon, assistant superintendent of schools of Erie county.

Erie county has such a service and is one of about twenty-two counties in the state which supplement school and small town libraries with bookmobile service.

It was decided to appoint a more representative committee to lay plans for such a service in Warren. This will meet in January and a public meeting also may be held in that month. Robert Hockenberry, assistant superintendent of schools for Warren county, presided at last night's meeting.

WARREN RURAL ROUTES have been changed so for convenience it might be well to preserve this outline as prepared by Brace S. Knabenshue, Warren postmaster. RD 1 -- Jackson st. ext., E. Fifth st. ext., Conewango ave. ext., Warren - Jamestown rd. from Hospital bridge to Lovers' Lane, Daugherty Run rd., Dutch Hill, Jackson Run Rd. from Dutch Hill to North Warren, Hatch Run rd. to the "Rocks" and Smith Corners, Cobham Park rd. and Hemlock rd.

RD 2 -- Route 6 west to General Irvine Bridge and "Pine Woods" (Leonhart Corner), including Starbrick, Yankee Bush rd. and section, including Alcorn corner and Morris Corner with connecting roads, Jackson Run rd. from Morris Corner to Dutch Hill rd., Ridge rd. and Follett Run rd. to Venturatown, State st. in North Warren and Warren-Jamestown rd. from N. Warren intersection to Venturatown.

WARREN-CORYDON STAR RT. -- Kinzua rd. only (Rogertown and Stoneham are on Clarendon RD).

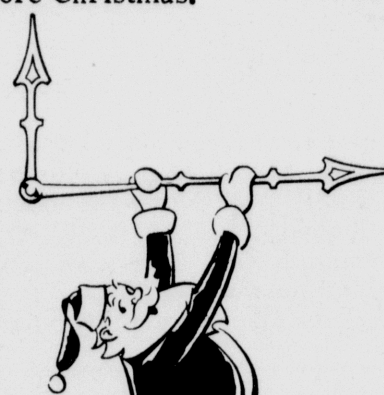

PLEASANT TOWNSHIP -- is now on Warren city delivery and should be addressed to street and number.

GOING TO BUFFALO is Dr. Robert S. Steen, pastor of the Warren First Presbyterian church since 1948. He will become general presbyter of the Buffalo-Niagara Presbytery, January 1.

LEADING CANDIDATE for the justice of the peace seat to be filled in Warren is Ervine Branch, retired Warren postal employee and a Democrat commissioner candidate in the recent election. It is expected that he will be named.

MATMEN OPEN

Warren's wrestling team takes to the road for its opener against Oil City this evening. The Dragons have eight lettermen back and some of them are pressed by very promising reserves. It should be a good season for Coach Homer Barr, depending, of course, on what the other fellow has to offer.

Veterans back are Connie Hultman, Dave Wilbur, Bob Olson, Mickey Kondak, Dale Meddock, Larry Cameron, Don Brian, and Billy Cummings. Don has been undefeated for two years and is Section and District champion in the 127 pound class.

The next meet will be on Beatty floor, Monday night, when DuBois comes here. Next Thursday is open.

WE MADE IT

Warren's undefeated football squad was well sprinkled across the list of all-state players named by coaches and reporters in the Associated Press voting. Don Mohney made the first team, a choice no one could dispute. Co-captain Mike Shanshala, Warren's big end, made the second.

Co-captain Jack Shattuck had to settle for the third team, though most of us who watched him perform know he rates better than that, Carl Greco, fleet Warren back, and Walt Kibbey, Dragon tackle, received honorable mention.

BIG QUESTION

How good is the Warren basketball team? After a pair of games, each of which were lost by a single point, the fans still do not know. The Dragons went to Jamestown and were nipped 68 to 67. Then visited Kane, where a six-point lead was blown in the last two minutes, and another loss was sustained, 55 to 54.

Considering the boys were opening on strange floors and, in the Jamestown situation, under adverse conditions, there are promising signs. If this team can overcome the Warren habit of throwing balls away, thus handing its opponents too many opportunities to score, it might go somewhere. It does have scoring power, but scoring is something you do only when you control the leather.

Jeff Homan led the scoring on both opening contests, with 25 at Jamestown and 22 at Kane.

Warren plays host to Southwestern, Friday, and visits Bradford Tuesday.

OTHER COUNTY ACTION

Other county teams also were having a tough time getting started. Youngsville lost to Edinboro, 71 to 62, then was tipped to Southwestern, 62 to 52.

Northern Area dropped one to Panama, 50 to 46. Tidioute was taken by Cranberry, 52 to 47, and then defeated Spartansburg, 47 to 30.

Sheffield, with the most promising team in the county on paper, opens against Smethport, Friday. In other county games, Youngsville plays Lawrence Park at home, Friday, and is invaded by Sheffield, Tuesday.

Northern Area will gain a comparison with Tidioute by meeting Spartansburg tonight, at Sugar Grove. Wattsburg comes to the Knights floor, Tuesday.

Tidioute stays on the road to visit Townville, Friday, then plays its first home game, Tuesday, when North Clarion returns a visit.

Things to Come

BARBERSHOP HARMONY ... will pour forth on the night of January 14 when the Warren Chapter Chorus of the SPEBSQSA, Inc., will sponsor the 8th Annual Night of Harmony in Beatty auditorium. The Mid-State Four will be the headliners, from Chicago. They are one of the nation's number one barbershop quartets. Also the Tet-Tri-Chords, a relatively new quartet, will be on hand. All seats will be reserved and tickets will go on sale soon.

THE RED CROSS BLOODMOBILE ... will be here in Warren on Wednesday, December 14. The hours will be from 10 a. m. to 3:45 p. m.

COMMUNITY CHEST PRESIDENT ... Paul Harrington, will be in charge of the meeting to be held on Monday, December 12, at 7:30 p. m. in the Community Consumer Discount Company offices. The purpose of this annual membership meeting is to elect a board of directors and to transact other business which may come before the meeting.

SIGN YOUR UNIT NOW ... for the Boy Scout Round-Up Rally to be held at Beatty auditorium on Saturday, December 17 at 2 p. m. All Scouts who became First Class in 1955 will be presented citations. Parents are also expected to take part with their sons in this recognition.

TO GET IN THE SPIRIT OF CHRISTMAS ... what could be better than to sing Christmas carols at the annual Carol Festival on Monday, December 19, at 8 p. m. This year it will be in Beatty auditorium and will be presented by the Warren high school Music Department with the a cappella choir, the Choristers, and the Choraleers, under the direction of Carroll Fowler, and the Warren high school orchestra under the direction of Harry Summers, taking part.

THE YWCA WILL BE FESTIVE ... when the Y-Teens and the Lettermen's Association combine efforts to decorate at the annual "Hanging Of The Greens" on Monday, December 12. Mrs. Arthur Chapman will tell the "Story of Silent Night", and Christmas carols and hymns will be sung. General chairman is Marilyn Johanson.

A-SKATING WE WILL GO ... at the Youngsville Pre-School Mother's skating party to be held at the Youngsville Rink on December 17 at 10 p. m. The party will be limited to those 16 years of age and older. Tickets may be purchased at Abraham's or at the door.

THE DICKSON CLASS ... will meet at the home of Katherine Scalise, 306 McPherson st., on December 15, at 8 p. m. Mildred Harmon will have devotions. This will be followed by a Christmas program consisting of a reading, music, and a 25 cent gift exchange.

THE WARREN BOY CHOIR ... will offer the Christmas program of the Young Mother's Study Club on Monday, December 12, at 8:30 p. m. Hostess will be Audrey Torrance.

MERRY CHRISTMAS PARTY FOR PRE-SCHOOLERS ... will be held at the Warren County Dairy from 11 a. m. to 2 p. m. on Saturday, December 10. This will be sponsored by the Pre-School Mother's Club.

THE BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMEN'S CLUB ... will meet on Tuesday, December 13, at the YWCA. Hazel Keller is chairman of the topic to be discussed, Public Affairs.

THE ALLEN CLASS ... of the First Methodist church will meet on Tuesday, December 13. Margaret Gilson will have devotions and program chairman is Kay Smith. The program will be Christmas readings by Mrs. Annette Stone Flick and special music by Mrs. Norma Heubach.

EXECUTIVE NIGHT ... of the Industrial Management Association of Warren County on Monday, December 12, will feature Prof. Paul S. Beaver, head of the Management Training Department of Pennsylvania State university on the subject, "Why I Like My Boss."

SEVENTH GRADE Y-TEENS ... are making favors to be distributed to the Children's Home about a week before Christmas in keeping with the traditional Christmas spirit of giving rather than receiving.

A GOLDEN AGER'S CHRISTMAS PARTY ... will be held on Tuesday, December 13, at the YWCA. There will be a tureen dinner at 1 o'clock. Bring a 25 cent Christmas gift for the grab bag.

FUN FOR ALL ... C. D. of A. members will be at the annual Christmas party in St. Joseph's Hall on Monday, December 12, at 8:15 p. m. A skit will be presented entitled "Christmas in Various Lands", and the Choir will sing under the direction of Mrs. A. B. Chiaramonte. There will also be group singing and a grab bag. Mrs. Richard Curren is general chairman, Mrs. George Cunningham, Sr., program chairman, Mrs. Patrick Gerardi, luncheon chairman, and Mrs. Matthew Bova, hall decoration chairman.

THE FIRST BASKETBALL DANCE ... of the season will be held at the YWCA on Friday, December 9, after the game. The new record player will provide the music. Dance chaperones will be Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Christensen, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Felton, and Mr. and Mrs. Lou Conroy.

ZONTA DATE CHANGED ... The Zonta Club Christmas dinner date has been changed to Thursday, December 15, at the home of Mrs. Leota Clark, 317 Hazel st., in Warren.

THE CONEWANGO VALLEY KENNEL CLUB ... will have their annual family Christmas Party at the Wilder Field club house at Irvine, Pa., on Saturday, December 17.

THE ASSOCIATION OF COLLEGE WOMEN ... will meet at the home of Mrs. W. F. Clinger, 316 Conewango ave., on Wednesday, December 14. Mrs. James Potter is chairman of the meeting and in charge of the Christmas program.

BELLES AND THEIR BEAUX ... are going to the Y-Teen Belle Ball on Thursday, December 22, in the YWCA gym. This is the annual Christmas formal.

THE WOMAN'S CLUB ... annual Christmas luncheon, sponsored by the Literature department, will be held on Monday, December 12. The program will be Christmas music sung by Mrs. Violet Borg, contralto, and Mrs. Romaine Ericsson, soprano. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Marian Whipple. The music will include Handel's Messiah and Carols of Other Lands.

G. O. P. Dewey-Eyed

By Doris Fleeson

CHICAGO. -- The destinies of the Republican party are at this moment in the tight and virtually unchallenged control of National Chairman Leonard Hall and leading figures of the Eisenhower Administration.

They intend to name the next GOP candidate for President, and they hope he will be Eisenhower. If he declines to run, however, they expect to nominate Vice-President Richard Nixon.

Their strategy of delaying their request for the President's decision to March or later is ostensibly designed to give him plenty of time to recover from his heart attack, to get the advice of his physicians, and to show him that the burdens of the Presidency can be substantially reduced.

What it does also as a practical matter is to freeze out other aspirants for the nomination, reduce the early primaries to meaningless formalities and shorten the time for shaping outside challenges to Administration control of the situation.

For example:

The first Presidential preference primary takes place March 13 in New Hampshire where Gov. Christian Herter of neighboring Massachusetts might logically seek to bolster his favorite son status in case Eisenhower does not run. It is reliably said that Herter would beat Nixon in that primary which would be a severe blow to Nixon's prestige right at the start.

But 100 New Hampshire voters can put up Eisenhower's name and unless he asks that it be withdrawn, it stays. Hall & Co. will plead that Eisenhower's intentions are not yet known, it is too early to force them and they will urge him to the silence that gives consent. This will discourage Herter and avoid a possible tarnish on the Nixon luster.

Minnesota is next, on March 20. There too the President could take his name out but need only fail to take affirmative action and it will stay on the ballot. Thus the plan is to repeat the New Hampshire maneuver which takes care of that state's former governor and perennial Presidential candidate, Harold Stassen, now a special assistant to the President, who has been making ambitious noises again.

The large and jovial National Chairman, Len Hall, is the perfect front man for this operation though it is widely suspected that a Thomas E. Dewey-Sherman Adams brain trust mapped it.

Radiating confidence, the Chairman has dropped roseate hints but never really any promises. In dull moments he has sung the old Eisenhower and Nixon campaign train songs made up by reporters, and his quip-record threatens to outdistance Adlai Stevenson's.

He has induced a state of euphoria in upward of a hundred men and women of proved ability that makes them stick their heads above the crowd. They have laughed and played and given remarkably little thought to the morrow. They are not really sure that things are as Hall makes them appear but since most of them hope Eisenhower will run, they refuse to worry.

This atmosphere was pierced to some degree in the closing hours of the meeting by a few of the Old Guard on the committee, mostly men who supported the late Senator Robert Taft.

These men don't believe for one minute that the President will run in view of the fact that he is 64 and has a heart condition. They think Hall knows it and they perceive exactly how he is arranging to foreclose the nomination for a man who is the choice of the Eisenhower palace guard. In the old Goldwyn phrase, they see themselves included out.

While they grumbled privately to reporters and undertook to proselytize the bemused committee members, these men are at a grave disadvantage.

In order to counterbalance the Taft influence on the committee, the Hall management lately adopted a new deal which puts the local chairmen from states which voted for Eisenhower on the National Committee too. All but three of these chairmen were named since 1952; they are mostly young and they are ardently pro-Ike.

It all adds up to as nice a political show as has been on view since the same team of Dewey alumni staged the Southern delegate steal drama in this same hotel in 1952 and ended Senator Taft's hopes for the Presidency.

1956 BIG AD YEAR

Those who the record proves are seldom wrong in predicting the amount of money which will be spent in a given year for advertising, say that about $9,250,000,000 will be used for advertising in 1956! This tops all previous totals, and this past year has been a good one for those who are on the receiving end of advertising dollars. They were paid away over eight billion!

The reason given for the expected increase is the continual growth of television, which is expected to receive more dollars of this kind than ever before, and the higher rates that are being charged for many forms of advertising.

ABOUT THOSE RATES

Warren county advertisers are enjoying a very low rate of advertising in the newspaper field, due, perhaps, to competition. Rates have been hopping upward in comparable areas. Some advertisers are paying well over a dollar an inch for space in medium sized daily papers.

With all costs going up in the news business as well as in all others, the papers cannot hold the line at a low level no more than can the makers of the many products which have climbed upward. Paper is scarce, and has gone up at least three times in 1955. One month it went up twice! Wages have not decreased, and the cost of all equipment and material used in getting out a paper has gone up. Pictures are a major part of modern papers. Photographic supplies have gone up at least twice in 1955. And the photographic supply budget in any paper is not a small one.

No business can operate very long on too slim a margin and certainly cannot keep alive at a loss. The papers are no exception.

ANOTHER FREE PRESS THREAT?

The post office seems to be much in the news these days concerning actions which some claim are a threat to free press. The series of events may lead to some action by Washington legislators.

We reported not long ago that Confidential magazine was refused a second class permit because of its content. Confidential, for which we hold no brief, claimed it was violating the principles of free press to refuse a publication the use of the mails before its content was known.

Confidential won its case. But the post office now has done the same to the magazine, Playboy. We are not familiar with this one, and again we are not defending its content. But Playboy has been refused a second class permit and has gone to court in hopes of getting an order that will make the post office officials issue one.

Unfortunately, much of our press is not revealing these facts and the public goes blithely about its business without knowledge of a kind of censorship that is being attempted by a government department. A censorship not founded on a knowledge of the subject censored, inasmuch as it hasn't even been published, let alone read.

If we allow any government agency such power, we really are asking for it.

WARM COATS

How to pick a warm coat is advice worth your attention about this time of year. Bernice Thare, state college clothing specialist, suggests you avoid much-flared styles which let cold air in from the lower edge. She also advocates buttons well down the front, and rolled collars that can be fastened high and close under the chin. Avoid open necklines.

INSECT CENSUS

For the past ten years the insects in Pennsylvania have had their noses counted, even as you and I. The work is done by state entomologists, who use light traps, bait traps, and nets to trace the movement and learn the numbers of those insects which are harmful to man and his crops.

However, this is poor reporting, because they have not told us how many, and we must leave you in the dark concerning how many flies ogle through your screens, and how many mosquitoes hum in your yard.

EXPANDING

The Betty Lee store will expand in 1956. Work will start in January on the job of adding the former First National Bank to the present store. This building was bought by the Levinson Realty last year when the bank consolidated with the Warren National.

Shoe and corset departments, and the employees lounge will be in the new area. The present store will be renovated to expand other departments. An archway will join the two. The plans were announced at the annual employees Christmas party, Tuesday.

Pre-Yule TV Specials Begin This Week

CBS has plans to make this year's Christmas television season the biggest, most star-filled and colorful yet. It all begins on WBEN-TV Dec. 14 in a series of spectacular pre-Christmas shows that bring to view traditional Christmas dramas, a circus holiday celebration and an elaborate 90-minute musical.

"Miracle on 34th Street," a comedy about Santa Claus in a New York City department store, will start off the pre-Yule Channel 4 shows Wednesday night, Dec. 14, at 10 o'clock. This presentation of The 20th Century-Fox Hour will star Macdonald Carey, Teresa Wright and Thomas Mitchell.

Shower of Stars will feature a musical adaptation of the Dickens' classic, "A Christmas Carol," with Fredric March portraying Scrooge, and Basil Rathbone enacting Marley's Ghost in a 60-minute all-color production Thursday evening, Dec. 15, at 8:30 o'clock.

"Christmas With the Greatest Show on Earth," a special one-hour showing of the annual Yuletide party for circus performers direct from Sarasota, Fla., winter quarters of Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus, on Friday evening, Dec. 16, at 8 o'clock.

Then on Saturday night, Dec. 17, at 9:30 Eddie Fisher will headline Star Jubilee's 90-minute colorcast of song, dance and drama titled, "I Hear America Singing."

WORK TOGETHER— DEAL WITH EACH OTHER for Home Prosperity

Your community goes ahead when everybody helps to pull in one direction.

If you buy outside more than you should, you are working against your own and community interests.

We believe that we should maintain a vigorous home-buying movement for community good. Don't you feel this way, too?

PEASANT'S EYE VIEW

We just finished an unusually well done book by a new writer, Kamala Markandaya. The name, Nectar in a Sieve. You can read it easily in an evening, and from it you may learn more than all the commentators, United Nation talks, and editorials can tell you.

You will see the life of an Indian peasant as told by one who has learned to write but has no worldly knowledge, no means of making comparisons. She knows only her life and the way of her little village.

It takes you through about thirty-five years of this woman's life, starting when she becomes a bride at thirteen. It may answer the question no doubt often in your mind, "Why don't these poor, underfed people do something about it?"

This book does not tell them what to do. It does not go into great description. It is a simple tale, of a simple people.

No one can read the book without wondering what can be done about this. And with Russia now spreading communism with the big smile and a helping hand, these people obviously are fertile soil for their efforts.

Who will get there first?

CORRECTION

Last week we mentioned the amount of money spent by beer and wine makers on TV time. The amount spent in September should have read $691,379 instead of the 3 1/2 million we listed. The latter figure was spent by the automotive industry. The beer and wine makers did spend about 5 1/2 million of the year on TV shows. Which, as we said, may not have been the most, but it certainly would have been missed.

LOCAL BOY

As we watched the introduction to "The Tender Trap" unfold on the Library screen, we heard behind us a discussion concerning the name of the man who produced the play on Broadway. The lady wondered if he was from a Warren family. The man was expressing his doubts.

This is why we have newspapers, and we should have told you in advance. The Clinton Wilder who pro-

MOVIES NEED SHOT

There is much about the movies which we enjoy, especially after watching television. Its photography always is so effective, in contrast to the shimmering sleep-provoking TV screen. We enjoy resting our eyes on the mammoth expanse of picture, and the colors often are almost as good as a ride in the car, with a story thrown in. And no commercials . . . or almost none. The bank this week used the screen to sell Christmas savings.

It is too bad that they seem to be having so much trouble competing. At least it apparently is so in Warren where one has closed. But we wonder why nothing is done about it?

We contend that Warren is a poor spectator community, especially when a constant audience is needed to support a venture, whether it be sports or drama. But we also contend that little is invested to change that attitude.

In the case of the movies, we see no reason for having a fraction of the poor seating filled. Why not have a third less seats, but good ones with plenty of leg room, and fill more of them?

A Lakewood group is bringing in many foreign films and attracts people from throughout the area. With a good theatre, clever promotion, and a cross-section of first-line attractions, a Warren movie house might have a chance. So, why doesn't some one try it?

"WE TEACH BEGINNERS"

G. O. P. Needs Advice

By Thomas L. Stokes

WASHINGTON -- In recent months the political polls of Dr. George Gallup have read to the sideline observer like letters of advice and counsel to the Republican party about what to do and what to avoid to win the 1956 Presidential election.

Somewhat after the manner of Lord Chesterfield's letters to his son, save for the Gallup statistics.

The combination of the polls and circumstances generally have been bad news, however, but through no fault of Dr. Gallup.

Beginning several months ago, in a series of polls, he proved to most everybody's satisfaction that only President Eisenhower could win for the Republicans in 1956, a judgment, it might be said, which others had reached independently by noting the continuous succession of Democratic victories in local, state and national elections since early 1953.

This series of letters from Dr. Gallup to the GOP was influential. Republicans took the positive, hopeful view that, with the President at the head of the ticket, they were sure to win, and then began to beat the drums for "Ike in '56" and so insistently that they convinced themselves he would run again and therefore the election was virtually in the bag.

Then came the President's heart attack to cast serious doubts over an Eisenhower candidacy. That turned all the demonstrations by Dr. Gallup that nobody else could win into very bad news. Now, with the President recovered, Republican hopes are rising again.

Now Dr. Gallup comes along with another letter of advice.

This is his latest poll which shows that young voters still prefer the Democratic party over the Republican party, by about 3 to 2; but which points out that President Eisenhower could shift these percentages to almost a 50-50 split of the young vote if he were the candidate. This is based on what actually happened in 1952 when the division among voters between the ages of 21 and 29 was: Eisenhower, 49; Stevenson, 51.

About a year before the 1952 election, young voters favored the Democratic party over the Republican party by about the same ratio as now, 3 to 2, but when the election came on many who had denoted Democratic as party preference switched to vote for the man at the head of the Republican ticket, General Eisenhower.

That General Eisenhower was popular among young people was demonstrated in local newspaper polls here and there which this reporter examined and reported on in a tour across the country during the 1952 campaign. They showed that the usual bracketing of age groups into party preferences, with young people leaning Democratic, did not hold at all for General Eisenhower who ran about the same way all across the board, regardless of age groupings.

But now, a year before the next Presidential election, the young people go back to the old groupings if the President is not a factor. Dr. Gallup sizes it up thus:

"The figures would indicate that the Republicans, as a party, have not done a good selling job among young voters and that one of the problems facing the Republicans in 1956, if Eisenhower does not run, will be to find a candidate who is more popular than his party in this group. Institute pre-election surveys in 1952 showed that General Eisenhower was the first Republican candidate since the beginning of the New Deal to make a strong appeal to the young voters of the nation."

What Dr. Gallup seems to be advising the Republican party here is that it must find an Eisenhower type of candidate if it is to win the young vote. None so far has turned up.

In view of that it is suggested to Dr. Gallup, which may be irreverent, that perhaps there is another solution. Would not a possible solution be for the Republican party to make itself into a party which would attract enough votes, young people, independents, and others, because of itself and not because of some glamorous personality grafted on at the top for a one-shot election victory?

Dr. Gallup might make himself more helpful to the Republican party if he would do some polling among the young people, for example, to try to find out what it is about the Republican party that a majority of them don't like, or, to put it the other way, what it is about the Democratic party that attracts them.

For the preservation of the two-party system it would seem that it is going to be necessary, for the long-range, to give the presently weaker of the two parties a broader base. For it is not going to be possible to find a succession of Eisenhowers to pull a minority party through by the sheer force of personal magnetism.

THE GAME SEASON

So far it has been a comparably good season for Pennsylvania hunters. The deerslayers got about 15,000 the opening day and have described the quality of bucks taken as good or fair, which is about as it has been for several seasons.

The bear kill may not top 400, which would be less than last year when 403 were shot. The small game kill is expected to be as good as last year, and in some areas it will be better.

Within our own area of contact with the hunters and their territory we believe the squirrel kill will be higher than last year. The rabbits probably will be about the same, though perhaps a bit less.

The change of numbers may not prove much, because many hunters forsook the open farm lands for the woods where they went gunning for turkey. This bird is becoming a major attraction and his numbers may have been reduced by a larger margin than usual this year.

Because many hunters gave up days to get a turkey, areas where squirrels and rabbits were plentiful were not quite so thoroughly hunted and the kill was less than it could have been.

THE TRAPPERS START

Last Saturday was the opening day for many who like to pick up a few dollars with a trap line. The muskrat became legal game and will continue so until January 28.

The Pennsylvania muskrat has a valuable fur that makes warm coats and muffs. It also is faked into looking like many other furs, including mink.

The price is not high and the trapping in cold December and January discourages most of the city boys. The farmer boys can pick up a few dollars on the stream which passes through their property, and need not walk far for their remunerative sport.

A simple and very effective set for this animal is to place your trap close to the shore, about a half inch under water, and covered with leaves, in which you have broken the ribs. Run the chain to a stick that is large enough to just go through the ring, and pound it firmly into the stream bed.

This stake should be out in the stream but not at full chain length. Leave some slack, and about four inches from the stake drive in a similar one. If this is not a natural path set, it is best to bait it with an apple, which you place on a thin stick, planted just beyond the trap. The apple is bent over until it hangs immediately above the trap, and high enough so that a rat must stand where the trap is in order to reach the fruit.

Mr. Rat is suspicious of all this. He smells man, and he looks it over. But he also likes the smell of that apple. He tries to reach it without touching this obviously disturbed area, but can't make it. So he steps onto that handy leaf, and snap!

Frightened he does the instinctive thing. He dives for the stream. And if he doesn't, the trap is staked out, and he can't make it to shore. He goes out into the stream and in his struggling eventually circles the other stake.

Now he can't get to shore. He drowns. You not only have a rat, but you don't have the unpleasant task of having to kill the helpless animal. He also is undamaged.

At this time of year, the ice may freeze over this set and your muskrat will sit smack on top of your trap and eat the apple. This can be defeated if the water is holding its level. Build up the base with a flat rock, set your trap just above the water line, and hide it with two or three large, dry leaves.

LICENSE CAN BE REVOKED

If you should wing someone with a careless shot of your hunting weapon, the Pennsylvania Game Commission has the right to revoke your license. This happened in October of 1954 in Lancaster county, and the negligent hunter took it to court. The court found that the Commission had such a right and upheld the revocation.

ANTLERLESS DEER SEASON

(From the Pennsylvania Game Commission.)

The 1955 antlerless deer season in Pennsylvania will be observed December 12 and 13 only. On both days of the season hunting hours will be 7 a. m. to 5 p. m., Eastern Standard Time. The holder of a license for this special season is required to hunt deer without visible antlers only in the county in which the license was issued.

Persons who took a legal antlered deer in either the archery or "buck" season this year may not hunt for, take or kill, or stand on watch for another white-tail in the antlerless deer season. Farm occupants permitted by law to hunt without license may hunt for antlerless deer on the same land as for other game. If not possessed of a hunter's license, to which is attached a kill tag report card, such farm people who bag a deer are asked to report the fact to the Game Commission at Harrisburg.

Based on the findings of Commission personnel and forestry officials, and on the recommendation of sportsmen and farmers, the authorities established the 1955 season for these reasons: 1. Good herd management, and also in the interest of other wildlife. 2. Diminish damage to farm crops. 3. Reduce overbrowsing of forest growths. 4. Lessen the incidence of highway accidents involving human safety and property damage. 5. Prevent the waste caused by deer dying of malnutrition in winter.

The Game Commission established county quotas in relation to the need of harvest in each locality. The license total for Pennsylvania's antlerless deer season of this year was set at 240,250. On December 1, county treasurers from only the counties of Susquehanna, Wayne and Wyoming still reported antlerless deer licenses available. Prior to season, non-residents who have a current Pennsylvania hunter's license may purchase a license to hunt antlerless deer.

Past experience indicates one hunter in 5 or 6 licensees will bag an antlerless deer in the two-day season. Therefore, the 1955 harvest will probably fall between 40,000 and 50,000 legal animals. Weather and other conditions will, however, be factors determining the total take in this special season.

THE TAX PROBLEM

Most taxing bodies in Pennsylvania constantly are confronted with the problem of raising money. With costs going up, the price of government also has climbed upward, and tax laws passed many years ago do not solve the modern problem.

Pennsylvania communities and state legislators go through a round of pulling and tugging to keep the budgets balanced, provide more services, and at the same time make people happy with taxes they don't want to pay.

The Pennsylvania tax structure is so antique it creaks, but no one does anything about it. The organized groups who represent various sections of our economy spend their time lobbying against taxes that will hurt their members. They spend little or no time devising changes that would rectify the situation.

Obviously we need graduated taxation in Pennsylvania. But such cannot be under our present laws. This change would be effected if the Pennsylvania Chamber of Commerce, the Pennsylvania Manufacturer's association, the Grange, labor unions, and other interested groups would get behind it and see that it not only is passed in Harrisburg, but also is sold to the people so that they will endorse it as an amendment to our constitution.

Meanwhile, our schools go without funds, and even our pensioners must wait on action by the legislature to make money available for regular payments. Our communities cry for funds but take no action to see that Harrisburg does something about it.

For the past few years the administrations in Harrisburg have made a habit of setting up budgets that appealed to many through the help received, but failed to provide the funds for doing the job. Each administration is faced with the same problem. How to carry on the work already started and to find funds for even more.

LOCAL ASPECTS

Locally you find the same situation. Warren borough is an example. It has been bickering over a variety of taxes with which to provide needed services and still is undecided.

It uses the very unfair per capita tax because it can't obtain sufficient funds with a real estate set-up that is out of balance and top-heavy with political favors. One area of Warren pays exceptionally small taxes because its elected representatives have done a powerful job of keeping assessments down. Other areas pay the bill.

For example, we know homes at the extreme ends of the Conewango ave. section which pay nearly double the tax paid by owners of homes at the extremes of Pennsylvania ave. What do the Conewango ave. area residents receive from the borough which the others do not?

There does not seem to be a fair tax available, either locally or in the state. And any effort to pass one that is at all fair runs into the opposition of special interest groups.

Let's take another example. There was talk of passing an earned income tax in Warren. It would have been good for about $100,000 and would have solved many financial problems.

But immediately some of the union leaders were attending council meetings to oppose such a tax. And some councilmen who may be very union conscious, due to the need of negotiating wage contracts, lost their interest in the tax.

Also attending one of the council sessions were spokesmen who claimed the earned income tax was unfair because it hit the wage earner and not the property owner. The big man escaped, said they.

The fact was that several of these visitors, who were pleading for a tax on property instead of wages in order to provide Warren money, do not even reside in Warren. They have built homes just outside the borough and would escape any increase of property taxes. In the case of an earned income tax they would argue taxation without representation, but they were courteously listened to by the councilmen and the earned income tax did not pass.

We never are going to settle this tax problem as long as we use only those assessments now available and pass the ones which face the least resistance. Selfishness will prevent the fairest methods from being used, and none is ideal.

BEST TAXES BLOCKED

Fair assessments of property and a fair, graduated income tax are the best taxes we could expect to have. But the property assessment job has been bungled, and the state laws prohibit an income tax. Efforts to make it legal are subtly defeated by a lack of effort on the part of many groups which could assure a change in the laws by a concerted campaign.

The state now battles over a manufacturers excise tax. This, of course, is opposed by those groups which represent the manufacturers. And these groups seem always to talk about the way most Republican legislators vote. The Republicans control the state senate by a pair of votes.

As the proposed tax stands, there are aspects of it that are unfair to industry and should be corrected before it is passed. But this does not mean that the tax is completely wrong.

But it will be opposed by the Chamber of Commerce and the Manufacturer's association in any form and probably will be licked. The "compromise" eventually could be a sales tax three times as big as the one the Democrats said they would eliminate.

COSTLY POLITICS

Obviously this is an effort by Republicans to discredit the Democrats. Great politics, maybe, but does it solve our financial problem?

We wonder when the public is going to become just enough fed up with the political practices that have hampered democracy for generations to demand good government. We wonder when the public will become sufficiently enlightened to know how good government can be obtained.

When the politics of our government in Pennsylvania change, the weaknesses become so very obvious, because such changes are so infrequent. The spoils system is at its very worst in this state. When one hundred employees in one department in one county are changed for political reasons, efficiency cannot be at its highest point, as any good business man can tell you. But that is what happens when the

THE CHRISTMAS CAROL CONCERT, given annually by the Warren Boy Choir, will be heard December 11, in the Grace Methodist church. This traditional event has proved so popular that it has been found necessary to have two performances in order to accommodate the audiences. Again this year there will be programs at 4 p. m. and at 8 p. m.

Director Byron Swanson and his popular group have been busy with rehearsals to assure a performance that will compare well with the many previous efforts, including those on radio and television, that have given these young singers an enviable reputation.

Remember the date, December 11. A good way to start the last two weeks of the pre-Christmas season.

parties change in Harrisburg.

We reek with politics! We are hamstrung by influence! Our people sit calmly by and let it happen! The tax problem will not be solved this year, nor will it be solved next year. The reason is simple. The vast majority of us are too selfish to want the right thing done, let alone fight for it.

Each of us prefers to maneuver for a slight favor rather than join with our neighbor to effect equality for all.

Canceled Stamps Used To Construct Pictures

By Lewis Crippen

Probably the most useless item you can imagine is a canceled postage stamp. Unless, of course, it has certain qualities which attract the attention of philatelists. Thousands of the government-printed mail permits perform the task of speeding letters and packages to your door and are then discarded and forgotten.

Mrs. Jennie Christensen, of Warren, has found a profitable way to transform the spent stamps into beautiful pictures. With artistry and patience she depicts outdoor scenes and interior views by constructing the pictures rather than painting them.

She paints the background onto thin cardboard and then arranges the setting entirely from the stamps which are cut to form the figures she desires. The highlights are added with a few deft movements of the paint brush.

Mrs. Christensen began her artistic efforts to help overcome the bereavement which accompanied her daughter's death. Evelyn, an invalid for five years before her demise in 1932, had been making greeting cards from stamps to occupy her agile mind and nimble fingers. The idea had been suggested to her by the Shut-In Society of New York City who also sold her product through its retail store which specialized in invalid-produced items. The availability of the facilities and a desire for an emotional outlet soon tempted Jennie to try her skill and within a short time she conceived the plan to depict scenes rather than construct greeting cards.

During the past twenty-three years, Jennie has made more than a thousand pictures which she has framed and sold, and approximately four thousand cards which she mails to friends. Local customers have sent her product throughout the United States and some orders are received via the United States mails -- supplying part of the raw materials needed to complete the requests.

Mrs. Christensen plans her own designs and then pastes up the scenes. She can, however, duplicate favorite pictures in some instances upon request of her customers. The very uniqueness of the product encourages many to give the pictures for those extra special occasions when the average gift does not seem appropriate.

The great demand has kept Jennie's stock depleted, but interested individuals can usually find a few awaiting delivery from which the quality can be determined. When you are in Warren and have a few minutes to spare stop in at Christensen's Studio on Pennsylvania ave. across from the Motor Lighthouse and meet Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Christensen. They will be pleased to show you the pictures and maybe you will find just what you desire to complete your Christmas shopping list.

JUST LIKE PAINTINGS from only a few feet away. Close scrutiny, however, reveals that canceled postage stamps were actually used to construct the scenic views. Mrs. Jennie Christensen, who has spent nearly one-third of her seventy-six years at the art, holds a partially completed picture. The subjects have been lightly sketched with pencil and the background is painted. Some stamps have been cut into the desired shapes and pasted in the proper positions. The different colored stamps give pleasing hues to the finished product.

A GREEN STAMP has been cut into an evergreen tree and Mrs. Christensen is making the placement where her sketch indicates.

Cancellations and numbers often seem to blend into the pictures to add charm to the figures they are cut to represent.

WITH SCISSORS IN HAND Mrs. Christensen attempts to disprove the statement of Joyce Kilmer that "only God can make a tree". The finished evergreen is not of the high quality grown by nature but serves wonderfully to represent the living needles in the winter scene. A touch or two of white paint covers the branches with snow and strikes the note of realism.

REMEMBER

If you want your distant relative or friend to receive his or her present before Christmas, this is the week it should be mailed to assure delivery.

IMPRESSIVE MEMORIAL services were held in the Warren Lodge, No. 223, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks on Sunday, December 4. The 64th annual recognition particularly remembered the following members who have died during the past year: Samuel W. McClure, Dr. J. Russell Elliott, B. H. Mathis, William Mueller, Dr. F. G. Haines, Marshall S. Hansen, Michael E. Mariner, Joseph W. Mullen, Karl M. Lyons, P.E.R., Gust N. Geracimos, and George S. Ayers.

The program was supervised by Exalted Ruler J. C. Goblinger and included selections by the Warren Boy Choir and featured an address by Ruel H. Smith, past state president.

Library Bids To Be Opened Tonight

The Youngsville borough council will meet in special session tonight to consider bids for the construction of a new library building. Secretary Margaret Brazee disclosed that eleven requests for specifications had been made by those interested in the electrical, plumbing and heating contracts. Four requests for detailed plans have been requested by those interested in the construction.

The bids will be opened but the contracts can not be awarded until Milton Kay, administrator of the Belle Kay estate, distributes the College st. lot and the $2,000 to the borough. A letter is being mailed this week to Mr. Kay requesting immediate distribution. It is anticipated that court approval will be required before the bids can be accepted.

AN UNUSUAL RADIO BROADCAST Sunday will feature an informal discussion on MENTAL HEALTH with Dr. Karl Menninger, of the Menninger Foundation of Topeka, Kansas. He will be interviewed by Dr. Norman Morgan of the Warren State Hospital on the second of a series of broadcasts concerning Mental Health and You, over Radio Station WNAE.

Considered one of the world's most renowned psychiatrists, Dr. Menninger attracted immense crowds for his public lectures on Mental Health last August at Chautauqua. His class sessions proved so popular that it was necessary to move into a larger hall. Dr. Menninger's many books for both laymen and the Medical Profession have been immensely popular.

While at Chautauqua, Dr. Menninger made a visit to the Warren State Hospital where he addressed the Warren County Medical Association. His talk was described as

NEW HIGHWAY SUPERINTENDENT. George C. Corbett, of the Franklin District Office, has assumed the responsibilities of maintenance superintendent for the Warren Co. district of Pennsylvania Department of Highways and will have his headquarters in the Warren County highway building in Starbrick. Mr. Corbett replaces Worth Hammand who was dismissed after serving in the capacity since April 1, 1955.

Mr. Corbett has had intermittent service with the Department for twenty years starting in 1932. Before coming to Warren he was resident engineer in the Franklin office concerned with maintenance. He is 56 years of age. His wife's name is Margaret and he has two married children.

The upheaval bears the "ear marks" of discordance in Warren County Democratic circles. The merits of the dismissal have been hotly disputed since Mr. Hammand's official notice contained only the stereotyped "reorganizational shuffle" as the reason for the change.

In the accompanying picture, Mr. Corbett and Edward D. Ellis, district engineer, (seated and standing) review the status of the office on Monday, the first day for the new superintendent.

"giving off sparks!" This series of broadcasts: "Mental Health And You" deals with America's number one problem.

Sooner or later, Mental Illness touches one out of every five families. Today one out of every two hospital beds is occupied by a mental patient. The series, a production of Olive and Franklin Hoff, is broadcast each Sunday at 12:45 over WNAE-WRRN-FM sponsored by the Manufacturers and Marketers Council of Warren County as a public service.

LIGHTS AGAIN?

We notice that there still are those who ask for lights on War Memorial field as a part of community improvement. Will someone tell us why?

There is no need or advantage in having lights unless someone is planning on bringing Pony league baseball to Warren. Baseball must have lights to stay alive.

But would baseball stay alive in Warren? If an undefeated football team, with five members of the squad on the all-state teams, cannot fill the stands on five beautiful afternoons, how can you expect to fill them for a baseball team on half the summer evenings?

And why waste those beautiful fall afternoons? Why travel at night? And how do you pay for lights with just five home games? If there would be any additional fans present, it would take their ticket prices a century to pay for the lights. We doubt if they would pay for the electricity.

1956 PROPOSALS

That light flare-up was inspired by the results of the Warren Chamber of Commerce poll, taken among its members to learn what they would like to see done. The four most wanted activities turned out to be: Attraction of diversified, small industry; improvement of the retail section and better parking facilities; expansion of the recreational facilities, and promotion of the county as a tourist and resort attraction through the use of the Allegheny National Forest.

And not a word about the river as an attraction, if it were made clean? What the deer season does for us in a couple weeks, the river could do us for many months.

GOOD COW

A Pennsylvania State university release lists the cows in this area which are credited with giving the most milk. The third best is Lin-mack Phoebe, of the Rosecliffe Farm, at Irvine. She gives 22 quarts a day. Her total is 17,307 pounds of milk and 562 pounds of butterfat.

The leader is Jane Mistress Mercedes, belonging to George A. Rutt, of Stevens. She averages 26 and has given 18,999 pounds of milk and 675 pounds of butterfat. Second best is Admiral Recovery, of the Terrace Farm, Titusville, which averages 23 quarts a day and has given 18,339 pounds of milk and 655 pounds of butterfat.

There is another one that slips in there for second honors when you consider only the average. This is Peegie Montvic Supreme, belonging to P. G. Lichtenwalner and Sons, of Center Valley. She gives 25 a day.

prise that the tuberculosis and polio campaigns annually are so successful. They are two of the best handled drives along publicity lines with which we have contact.

In this business of knocking out copy week after week, it is much appreciated if those who seek publicity provide easily handled information. It is not enough to send in a few typewritten sheets, or to make a few calls.

The papers can use pictures, items of various sizes, and convenient fillers. Provided with these, the average editor and make-up man will see that a worthwhile campaign is well read by the subscribers.

It also is another reason why we believe that all should be made to pay their share in the battle against disease, instead of depending on campaigns, the success of which are measured by the ability of those who make them rather than by the amount of need.

THE AUCTION HAMMER will be raised over the Sherwood Refinery with Joseph Day, of New York, asking for no less than $125,000. It will take place December 29, at 2 p. m., in the Carver Hotel. About 100 acres of land and 40,000 square feet of buildings are involved.

ET TU BRUTUS?

Last week's U. S. News and World Report had a main story claiming the Russians were winning the third World War. The so-called liberal papers have been saying this about our foreign policy for months, but coming from this conservative of conservatives, maybe the light will shine.

AND THE SATEVEPOST?

Right up front in this week's issue of the Saturday Evening Post is an article which reveals the harrowing experience of an ordinary citizen, a lawyer, service clubman, a modern sort of Babbitt, who went through the wringer of trying to prove that he was not a security risk. He just about says that this may be all right in Washington but why should it be practiced on ordinary civilians?

We are so glad that all walks of journalism now are supporting the ragged and McCarthyized ranks that have gone before.

****

WHAT IS A METEOR?

We hear a Japanese scientist has claimed the Russians used raw uranium in their last big explosive. This suggests that we are finding ways to erupt the basic elements of our earth for explosive purposes.

Does this suggest anything to you? Such as chain reactions that could blow this big round thing we stand on into shooting stars!

Could it be that those meteors are parts of advanced planets which are blowing themselves to bits. Pick yourself a piece of sky; this is where Adam came in.

GEORGIA PEACH

The Russians who are attempting to make friends in a wide variety of countries and no doubt are running us down as a gang of stuffed capitalistic shirts who think we are better than most people, no doubt enjoyed the tasty morsel handed them by the Georgia governor who said his Georgia Tech football team should not meet Pittsburgh in a bowl because the Panthers have a reserve quarterback who has a different pigment formation in his skin.

And they must have made the most out of the story about the American teacher who was beaten up because she included three negro youngsters in her religious class.

Of course Georgia will play Pitt. The school's regents are in a different position than the governor. They have to balance the athletic budget and can not lose that bowl of plums. The governor must run for office.

FOR SALE

It is not with pleasure that we announce the intended sale of the Geracimos restaurant and candy store on Liberty st. This popular center for those who want anything from an excellent box of custom-made candies to a full course dinner, will be sold after the first of the year, if a buyer is found. However, it is not likely that any change will occur unless the prospective purchaser will take the entire business and property. Mrs. Gust Geracimos now is the proprietor.

Warren Boro Board Re-Elects Melvin Keller

At the organizational meeting of the Warren borough school board on Monday evening, Melvin Keller was re-elected to serve as president. W. H. Cowden was elected vice president and C. H. Frantz was selected as treasurer. Committee chairmen were appointed as follows: Finance -- C. H. Frantz, Schools -- Dr. A. J. O'Connor, Textbooks -- F. E. Kieshauer, Buildings and Grounds -- J. R. Hanson. It was decided that the January meeting will be delayed one week because of the New Year's Day holiday.

Harry Hutchings, president of the Warren Borough Teachers assn., and Loyal Briggs, chairman of the liaison committee, visited the meeting and spoke in favor of the Warren borough teachers recommendation that a $200 increase be granted all professional employees. They have also requested that the minimum salary for beginners be established at $3200, an increase of $300, and that the maximum be increased a like amount.

Announcements were made of the receipts from the state of $1,010.70 for the milk fund and $974.75 for the lunch program. The senior standing of Mrs. Ruth Bannon was recognized which means that she has completed three years or 100 credits toward her college degree. Homebound instruction was approved for Raymond Swanson and Jack King. The recommendation of the recreation committee of Warren borough council was accepted and the board will employ the playground supervisors for 1956.

A separate bank account will be established for the Elizabeth S. Beaty funds. It was announced that the newly-computed rate for borough employees insurance has dropped eight cents to $1.56 per month per thousand. Kermit Forsgren was re-elected to the authority for a five year term and R. E. Brasington was elected to fill the remaining one year of a term made vacant by a resignation.

Substitutes salaries totaled $880 and janitors' overtime amounted to $115.75. Cafeteria report indicated $5,965.37 for supplies and $1,835.03 for salaries. $717.22 in monthly orders were approved. General Fund bills totaled $32,586.47.

Myron Jewell, elected to the board in the November election, presented his credentials and was seated as a member.
